

Play Where the Pros Play

Located in Ponte Vedra Beach, Florida, The Tournament Players Club at Sawgrass is home to the annual Player's Championship, professional golf's richest tournament. In addition to being the headquarters of the PGA Tour, the Sawgrass resort is home to two 18 hole golf courses designed by renowned golf course architect Pete Dye.

The Stadium Course, home of the annual Player's Championship, professional golf's richest event and the famous 17th Island hole, the most photographed golf hole in the world and certainly the best known.

Equally challenging but somewhat less notorious, the Dye Valley Course is the second excellent venue in this golf mecca. The TPC-Sawgrass is also home to the Tour Academy golf training school, providing outstanding teaching programs to help improve your game. Contact the TPC-Sawgrass.

There are at least two ways a golfer may play TPC-Sawgrass. One is membership. Memberships are currently available. Another way is to stay overnight at the Marriott Sawgrass Golf Resort and Spa. A Resort Day Pass t allows golf play without staying overnight at the Marriott. That rate is about $400.
